PLANE CRASH IN COUNTY KILLS TWO

Senate Keeps Rights Bill Ruling Tight

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate refused today to broaden the exemption for small boarding houses from the public accommodations section of its civil rights bill.

As the measure stands, it would exempt owner-operated establishments having no more than five rooms for rent from the provisions against racial discrimination.

Sen. John S. Cooper, R-Ky., offered an amendment to raise this to 10 rooms, but the Senate rejected it by a vote of 51-35.

A vote of 79-17 approved a Southern sponsored "double jeopardy" amendment after it was modified so it would not apply to state laws.

Still to be voted on is a mountain of some 100 amendments. But Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., the bill's floor manager, figures the Senate should be able to dispose of them at a 12-a-day clip.

It set to the task Wednesday, beating down two Southern amendments, and drawing the wrath of Dixie leader Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., who shouted the Senate was acting "in the spirit of a lynch mob!"

Such daily-dozen progress on the amendments would be a breathtaking change of pace after the 75 days of debate and filibuster which the senators voted Wednesday to choke off.

In so doing it made history. For the first time the Senate invoked cloture — the limitation on debate — in a civil rights battle. The vote was 71 to 29, four more than the necessary two-thirds majority. All 100 senators were on hand, including the ailing Sen. Clair Engle.

Girl Climbs Trees, Rides Bike; She's Blind

BRAINTREE, Mass. (AP) — Joanie Hyland likes to ride her bike, climb trees and play ball. Not so unusual for a 13-year-old girl, except that Joanie has been blind since birth.

All her seventh grade classmates at Braintree Junior High School can see. But this doesn't stop her from getting A's and B's.

Joanie walks to and from school by herself, and after practicing in a playground, she started riding her bicycle in Braintree streets. But she always takes a friend along.

Joanie talks freely about her blindness which she doesn't consider a handicap. She recalled once when she got into trouble at school by climbing onto the roof of the building.

"I wanted to see what it looked like," she said with an impish grin.

College Awaits Boy, 12

TITUSVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Billy Green, aged 12 and a fifth grade failure, next week will try college. Educators think he may do better.

Tests convinced the educators that Billy has the mental capability of a college freshman and reading ability perhaps a little superior. His IQ was 200. The genius rating begins at 140.

Monday Billy begins a six-week freshman course called "Physical Science Survey" at Brevard Junior College.

If Billy makes the grade without difficulty, he'll be encouraged to buckle down to a

Nixon Is Alone In Development Of Third Force

CLEVELAND (AP) — Fast-moving events at the Governors' Conference here left Richard M. Nixon virtually alone as a "third force" prospect for the Republican presidential nomination.

The former vice president has said all along that only a draft would make him a candidate. Nixon attempted to nudge a "moderate" governor into the field after New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller all but conceded the top GOP prize to Sen. ...

GOP Governors Eye Platform

Idaho Chief Says Barry To OK Stand

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Robert E. Smylie of Idaho predicted today that Republican governors will produce a "forward-looking" platform declaration that Sen. Barry Goldwater will accept as the GOP presidential nominee.

Smylie said in an interview the failure of the 16 Republican governors to agree on a policy declaration during the Governors Conference which ended Wednesday does not mean the project will be abandoned.

The Governors' Conference wound up without producing a new moderate opponent for the conservative Goldwater.

Gov. George Romney of Michigan issued a statement that was interpreted by his aides as saying he would fight for a progressive platform, but he would not battle Goldwater for the presidential nomination.

This seemed to end an effort by former Vice President Richard M. Nixon to get a moderate Republican other than Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York into the contest.

However, Nixon said in London that Goldwater does not have the nomination clinched and that Romney has the best chance of beating Goldwater. "Goldwater is odds-on favorite at this time," Nixon told newsmen, "but the jury is still out. I would say the question is whether he goes over the top this next week."

Most Republican governors seemed to agree with Smylie, who said he thinks Goldwater has the nomination locked up.

The conference elected Gov. Grant Sawyer of Nevada, a Democrat, to succeed GOP Gov. John Anderson Jr. of Kansas as chairman. It picked Minnesota for next year's meeting, with indications that Minneapolis will be the site.

Rate on Bonds Is 3 1/4 Per Cent

Bonds for Circleville's school improvement program were sold Tuesday at an interest rate of 3 1/4 per cent instead of 4 1/4 per cent as was listed yesterday. The bonds sold amounted to $1,968,000, the amount approved by school district voters in the May primary election. The successful bid listed a premium of $17,013. Spokesmen here termed the bond sale as a good transaction.

Deer Creek Job Given Further OK

Congressman William H. Harsha, Ohio 6th District, today announced that the House Committee on Appropriations has granted his request for funds for the proposed Deer Creek Reservoir in this area and five other flood control projects within or affecting the 6th District.

The Committee has approved $500,000 for Deer Creek construction purposes. A Subcommittee had okayed the request earlier this week.

Other projects approved today by the appropriations panel were: Big Darby Reservoir, $1,000,000 for construction; Paint Creek Reservoir, $116,000 for advanced planning; Salt Creek Reservoir, $200,000 for advanced planning; Caesar Creek Reservoir, $150,000 for advanced planning; and East Fork Reservoir, $150,000 for advanced planning.

"The construction of these projects will be a most effective means of combating unemployment in the area and will build enduring foundations for real prosperity by developing our precious water resources for water supply, recreation and flood control," Harsha said.

The lawmaker added that he anticipated no problem in the Appropriations bill passing Congress.

Although only 16 of the state and territorial governors are Republicans, their gyrations dominated the five-day conference in the Sheraton Cleveland Hotel.

Seeking additional "names" for the star-studded conference, Rhodes had Goldwater and Nixon invited. An invitation to Pierre Salinger, Democratic U.S. senatorial nominee in California and former white house press secretary, was withheld only because it was learned he already had arranged to attend.

As a pinch-hit speaker for President Lyndon B. Johnson, who could not make it, Rhodes drafted Democratic Sen. Frank J. Lausche, former Ohio governor, who drew nine rounds of applause at the formal state dinner attended by about 1,500.

Once Around Roundtown

REPORTS today disclose that real progress is being made in establishing the John Hamrick Youth Memorial Fund.

Young Hamrick, 12, was killed Sunday afternoon after his bicycle collided with a car at Pickaway St. and Northridge Road.

The immediate reaction of friends of the family was to organize a Memorial Fund in the youngster's name. Contributions have been coming in at a steady pace, according to persons heading up the project.

Funds realized will be used for promotion and development of youth activities in Pickaway County. Earl Palm, one of the fund's organizers, said efforts are being centered on formation of a proper governing body or committee to handle the operation.

Contributions currently are being sent to these persons, in care of PO Box 359, Circleville: Paul Schein, Pickaway County 4-H Advisory Council president; Dwight Radcliff, Boy Scout commissioner; Donald Archer, 4-H Club adviser; Robert W. Wood, Little League Baseball treasurer; Loring Leist, 4-H adviser; Russell Palm, youth activities supporter; Robert Wavering, St. Joseph's School activities.

Palm said it is hoped actual ground rules and operating policies for the Memorial Fund will be formulated when the various organizers meet for a comprehensive study. To date, contributions have been received from both individuals and area firms and organizations.

Boys State Opens Today in Athens

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — More than 1,300 boys from throughout Ohio will open their annual Buckeye Boys State meeting on the Ohio University campus today.

The week-long annual school in self-government is sponsored by the American Legion. Director William Welsh said enrollment this year may surpass the record attendance of last year which was 1,315.

Boys State is for students between their junior and senior years of high school.

Among speakers this year will be Gov. James A. Rhodes, who will talk next Monday, and basketball star Jerry Lucas, who is on the program for next Wednesday night.

Plane Crash Debris

First Reports List Craft as Military Type

Two persons were killed when an airplane identified as a military craft crashed at about 1:30 p. m. today near Salicreek Twp. School.

Witnesses said the plane crashed on the Lloyd Hoffman farm, about 10 miles southeast of here. It smashed into the ground about 500 feet from the Hoffman house and burst into flames.

Hoffman, in his barn about 100 feet from the impact area at the time, said the "crash sounded like a sonic boom." He went to investigate, but couldn't get near the debris due to massive flames.

According to witnesses, two occupants of the plane definitely were killed.

An observer in Tarlton supposedly saw the plane going down. He said two parachutes seemed to be trailing the spiraling craft.

However, there was no indication of survivors. No identification was immediately found on the two victims.

First reports identified the plane as an F-101 either from or heading to Lockbourne Air Force Base. Military investigators were flown to the scene by helicopter shortly after the crash.

Presidential Scholars Are Feted

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson heaped praise, lavished the hospitality of the White House and gathered an array of famous Americans to honor 121 high school graduates picked for intellectual attainment as the nation's first "presidential scholars."

No money went with the award. But the five hours these youngsters spent in the White House last evening was historic and unforgettable.

They met the President and his family in formal and informal mood. They wandered through the stately rooms of the White House and got a look at the Johnsons' pet beagles.

And, they mingled with such famous personalities as actress Helen Hayes, poet Ogden Nash, choreographer George Balanchine, physicist J. Robert Oppenheimer, astronaut Navy Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr., and novelist Harper Lee.

The President's older daughter, Lynda, 20, presided at an outdoor hamburger dinner, served on paper plates under the trees where Caroline Kennedy's play school used to be. And, while they ate, the scholars gathered to chat with composer-pianist Leonard Bernstein, actors Sidney Poitier and Jose Ferrer, the Gerry Mulligan Quartet, Metropolitan Opera tenor Nicholas di Virgilio and the Kingston Trio, who had come to entertain them.

Damaged Rocket Plane Fixed; Faces Tests

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — The No. 2 X15 rocket plane—the one that was damaged while landing here in November 1962—is ready for flight tests today and Friday.

The craft has been repaired and modified.

U.S. Air Force astronaut Robert A. Rushworth will be at the controls both days.

LBJ Foreign Aid Fund Given Nod

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional foreign aid backers were buoyed by the down-the-line House approval of President Johnson's $3.5-billion foreign aid authorization request.

The only reduction — $27,000 — came about because of a technical correction of an oversight. Final approval came on a 230-175 roll-call vote.

Although Wednesday's House action gave the bill a major push, there's still a long course ahead before the money is forthcoming. The authorization approval merely sets a lid on spending.

The House Appropriations Committee and the full House still must approve a final appropriation and the measure must run the full course in the Senate. The two chambers must end up in agreement before the funds are made available.

The first thicket administration strategists have to negotiate is the House Appropriations Committee headed by Rep. Otto E. Passman, D-La., and Passman, a key opponent of foreign aid, is talking in terms of big cuts.

He denied categorically that he had ever discussed with any one a so-called "package" reduction in his committee of $250 million, as has been described in a published report.

"Anybody who guessed on a figure of $250 million is really wild," Passman told a reporter. "Why, we'll take out that much in the first hour of the markup (subcommittee consideration of the appropriation bill)." Passman previously mentioned publicly a figure of $900 million as what he would like to lop off the President's program under the ceiling set by the authorization bill.

"If I was going to capitulate on 90 per cent, why not on the whole way and be a real flop in the eyes of my constituents?" the Louisiana congressman asked.

Nonetheless, foreign aid supporters were elated by their victory Wednesday. And Johnson said the members of both parties "who rightly concluded that this is no time to be cutting a carefully drawn measure, deserve the thanks of their countrymen."

The authorization now goes to the Senate, where it is likely to get kind treatment.

Fifty-six Republicans joined 174 Democrats for passage, while 60 Democrats and 115 Republicans voted against the authorization.

Ohio Methodists Ask Emphasis on Union

LAKESIDE, Ohio (AP) — Delegates to the Ohio Methodist Conference want more emphasis put on union with other denominations.

Methodist leaders were urged Wednesday to hasten attempts to unite with the Protestant Episcopalians, United Presbyterians, United Church of Christ and Disciples of Christ. Greater cooperation and collective witness by Methodists with the Orthodox and Roman Catholic churches also was requested.

U.S. Ambassador Leonard Unger said Wednesday that continuing the flights still was a matter of discussion between him and Souvanna. Unger said he would meet with the premier today or Friday, after Souvanna returned from seeing King Savang Vathana in Luang Prabang.

Oswald Widow Due For More Questions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lee Harvey Oswald's Soviet-born widow, the first witness questioned by the Warren commission in its investigation of President John F. Kennedy's assassination, testified again today as the inquiry nears its end.

The commission gave no explanation of why it was recalling the 23-year-old Marina Oswald. Presumably it intends to ask her about details developed in the hearings since her appearance in February.

3 Juveniles Smash 2 Cars

Local County Home Runaways Arrested

Three young boys who ran away from the Pickaway County Children's home last night stole three cars, wrecked two of them, then returned to Circleville and gave themselves up, city police reported today.

The three juveniles left the Children's home at about 10:45 p. m. yesterday, according to police.

Officers said they first stole a 1961 model car belonging to Forrest Easterday Jr., 215 1/2 N. Pickaway St. They drove it to Hillsboro where they wrecked it.

At Hillsboro they allegedly stole a second car and wrecked it approximately three miles west of Washington C. H.

Patrolmen said the juveniles admitted stealing a third car in Washington C. H. From there they returned to Circleville where they contacted Harry Timmons and asked him to take them to Police Headquarters.

THE THREE boys have been turned over to Pickaway County juvenile authorities.

They admitted all three thefts, along with wrecking the two cars, according to local authorities.

Equal Pay Law in Effect

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new law requiring equal pay for equal work goes into effect today, covering more than 7 million women under the Fair Labor Standards Act.

"But this doesn't mean all these women are going to get pay raises," said a Labor Department spokesman. "We don't know how many of these women may be making less than men."

The law, the Equal Pay Act of 1963, amends the Fair Labor Standards Act and forbids employers from discriminating in wages solely on the basis of sex.

Some stiff penalties are provided, including fines up to $10,000 and possible imprisonment on a second offense. Back salary can be collected as unpaid wages if in violation of the law, and the secretary of labor has the power to bring suit for back pay at the written request of an employee.

Ohio Oil Boom Whittled

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An Ohio oil company executive whittled the state's current "oil boom" down to size today, noting "if all the oil found in Morrow County could be produced at one time it could supply the United States for one day, but not for two."

Dr. Lynn C. Jacobsen, assistant to the senior vice president of The Standard Oil Company of Ohio, made the remark in a speech prepared for delivery at an "Ohio Oil Industry News Conference" sponsored by three state petroleum industry organizations.

Recent property leasing and drilling, said Dr. Jacobsen, "brought tears of nostalgia to the older men who had not seen such foolishness for over 30 years."

He added, "if the bubble bursts large amounts of money will be lost; and even if the optimists are right, it will be years before the industry is in the black."

Dr. Jacobsen pointed out, however, that the pattern of expenditures racing ahead of discoveries is typical of nearly all exploration plays.

On an optimistic note, he said, "If a sizable strike can be made in Pickaway, Sandusky, Ashtabula or any of a score of other Ohio counties, exploration in Ohio will be established as a major and continuing activity and one which will contribute substantially to the economic well-being of the state."

And so, said Dr. Jacobsen, the leasing of Ohio land by oil companies continues, and "a farmer who has not yet been asked to put his signature on a lease form is nearly as hard to find as an oil field."

News of World in Brief

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Communist activity in South Viet Nam dropped to its lowest point in three months last week but Red casualties nearly doubled over the previous week, an American military spokesman announced today.

American and Vietnamese military casualties increased also, but not as much as the Communist Viet Cong, he said. Vietnamese patrols reached a peak of 7,530 last week, he said, but only 100 made contact with the Viet Cong.

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) — Eight of nine defendants in South Africa's major treason trial were found guilty today by a judge. A white defendant was acquitted.

Among those convicted were African nationalist leaders Nelson Mandela, known as the "Black Pimpernel" for his feats in eluding police, and Walter Sisulu.

The six Africans, two whites and one Indian had been on trial for seven months. They were charged by the white supremacist government of assisting in acts of sabotage in 1962 to prepare for guerrilla warfare and an invasion to overthrow the state.

Judge Quintus de Wet said he would sentence them Friday. All could receive the death penalty.

HOBART, Okla. (AP) — Descendants of Chief Big Bow, a fierce old Kiowa Indian warrior buried in 1901, and others gathered Wednesday about what they thought was the grave of the ex-Army scout in a planned brief ceremony.

His remains were to have been transferred to Ft. Sill for military rites.

Diggers, however, could not locate the grave on the farm land, even though they looked in 50 places while the crowd waited.

The search resumed today.

GRASSE, France (AP) — Prince Norodom Sihanouk, chief of state of Cambodia, underwent minor surgery Wednesday, and may have to undergo another similar operation in three weeks, his doctor said.

Vote Rejects...

D-Calif., who cast his vote for cloture on a wheel chair.

From then on, each senator is limited to one hour of speaking time on all questions in connection with the measure. Leaders said they were certain a substantial part of this 100 hours will not be used. A little more than two hours were consumed Wednesday after cloture was imposed.

Humphrey told a reporter he believed the bill now would be passed and sent back to the House in amended form by Friday of next week.

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., the Republican whip, suggested it might be done by Wednesday.

The bill's bipartisan managers demonstrated Wednesday in two key votes they were in full command of the field following the cloture vote.

They beat down 59 to 40 an attempt by Russell to put off until Nov. 15, 1965, the effective date of the public accommodations provision.

Then they smashed, by a surprising 69 to 25 tally, an amendment of Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., to strike from the bill the title authorizing cutoff of federal funds to programs where discrimination is practiced.

Many Southern senators have said they consider this the most objectionable section of the bill.

As cloture was imposed, 565 amendments had been introduced, mostly by Dixie senators.

But the Southerners said dozens of these were duplicates and that many never would be called up.

OSP Apprehends 2 AWOL Soldiers

The State Highway Patrol yesterday afternoon apprehended two Kentucky natives wanted by U. S. Army authorities for being absent without leave.

They were Henry Conley, 21, who has been reported missing from Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., since April and Robert Allen, 19, who has been reported missing from Camp Lejeune, N. C., since April.

They were turned over to military authorities today.

Twelve Area Students Eye Graduation at Ohio State

Twelve Circleville and Pickaway County students are scheduled to take part in graduation exercises tomorrow at Ohio State University.

Four of the students are scheduled to receive professional degrees. They are Joseph G. Caldwell, Charles J. Montgomery, doctor of medicine, and Roger E. Bennington and Nelson L. Gordon, bachelor of laws.

Court Issues 1,269 Titles During May

There were a total of 1,269 titles issued in the Pickaway County Clerk of Courts office during May.

This included 91 new car titles, 15 truck titles, eight station wagon titles, 3 motorcycle titles, 11 house trailer titles, one camping trailer and one travel trailer titles.

According to the report compiled, 29 of the new cars for which new titles were issued were Chevrolets. There were also two station wagons and three trucks that were Chevrolets.

Ford vehicles for which new titles were issued amounted to 15 cars, two station wagons and six trucks.

In third place in sales were Pontiacs with 10 cars sold. Oldsmobile listed eight new car sales.

New titles were issued for four Dodge cars, one station wagon and one truck, while Buicks accounted for six new car titles and one new station wagon, and Plymouth had six new car sales.

Rambler also issued new titles for six cars. New Mercury sales accounted for three cars while Cadillac accounted for two.

Selling one each were Chrysler, Imperial and Volkswagen. Volkswagen also reported a new station wagon sale.

International sold four new trucks and one station wagon, while GMC sold one truck.

B-I-E Panel Eyes Phases Of Program

A comprehensive review and a preview look into future events were on the agenda when members of the Area Chamber of Commerce Business-Industry-Education Day met yesterday afternoon at Tinks.

The session was guided by Alden Bray, new chairman of the Chamber committee. He succeeds L. D. Varble at this post.

Initial remarks centered on the successful B-I-E Day conducted here in March. A lengthy discussion concerned possible improvements that can be followed in future projects.

The panel agreed that the month, day and time should remain about the same. Several suggestions were made for improving the luncheon and afternoon session.

THE NEXT phase of the B-I-E program calls for area business and industry personnel to visit city and county schools during the coming school term. The exact date will be announced later.

The third phase will consist of students, probably seniors, visiting community, industry and businesses.

Cleanup Is On In Montana

Costly Floodwaters Start To Recede

HELENA, Mont. (AP)—Flood-torn Montana took on aspects of a zone of war today as government and business leaders directed multimillion-dollar rebuilding projects and authorities searched for dead and missing.

As floodwaters receded, officials in various search centers reported at least 30 persons dead.

Many of the more than 35 persons listed as missing were believed to be dead. Authorities said some bodies may be buried under tons of silt and rock.

Gov. Tim Babcock, who made an aerial inspection of the stricken area, called it the worst thing that has ever happened to the state.

"We can't begin to estimate the damage," he said. "It will run into tens of millions of dollars. Sections of highway as long as 20 miles have been destroyed by floodwaters."

Highway crews already have created temporary roads of mud and rock and set up makeshift bridges.

Many small towns were cut off from food and medical supplies. Supply-laden U.S. Air Force planes, including C-123 transports, landed on grass and gravel runways and even open stretches of highway.

In the tiny reservation community of Heart Butte, where a number of persons were reported injured, a nurse was in charge of medical treatments. She received instructions by short-wave radio from a physician.

Thousands of pounds of food and medical supplies were airlifted into flood-battered communities. The largest of these was Choteau, a town of 2,000 made an island by the flood.

$150 Fine Levied Here For OMVI

William S. Lanier, 31, Columbus, was cited into Circleville Municipal Court for operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicants.

Lanier was fined $150 and costs and sentenced to three days in the Pickaway County Jail by Judge Sterling M. Lamb. He suspended the defendant's license for six months.

Also charged for failure to stop within an assured clear distance, Lanier was handed an additional fine of $25 and costs with $10 of the fine suspended. He was arrested by city police. Other cases were:

Bette Zuber, 39, Portsmouth; $24 bond forfeiture for speeding 75 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

Utah J. Green, 33, Columbus; $10 and costs for driving a motorcycle on the grass median strip.

Nixon Alone...

Goldwater's brief appearance put his active and potential foes in the shade. The Arizona senator spurned a touted summit session of top Republicans, apparently to avoid any stop-Goldwater traps.

Nixon arrived after Goldwater returned to Washington and hustled about looking for a "moderate" to enter the fray. He might have succeeded, insiders disclosed, except for the turn of events.

After an early talk with Eisenhower, he said Scranton was ready to read a candidacy statement on Sunday's "Face the Nation" telecast, only to scrap it following a second call from Eisenhower.

The second call came after Eisenhower reportedly heard from his brother, Milton; Tom McCable, Philadelphia industrialist and others. The switch left Scranton without a script and he made no later attempt to use it.

After meeting with Republican governors in closed session, Nixon called Romney and Scranton to his suite separately.

With Scranton sidelined, Nixon told Romney the best way to make a fight for his avowed convention platform views was as a candidate and they agreed on a course of action.

Romney then informed news men that Nixon asked him to be a candidate and that he would have something to say in a few days.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Here is the official U. S. Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather summary:

A cool high pressure area moved slowly eastward into the Great Lakes and much of the surrounding region Wednesday night producing mostly fair skies along with early morning temperatures in the 40s in northern Ohio and the 50s elsewhere.

Representative readings early this morning included Akron 44, Cleveland 47, Columbus 50, Marietta 53 and Cincinnati 58.

The high pressure area centered over the Great Lakes today was predicted to continue to move slowly eastward and to play a major part in determining the Ohio weather today through Friday.

Fair and mild was in store for today with afternoon temperatures ranging from near 70 in portions of the northern counties to about 80 extreme south.

Cool temperatures were to again occur tonight. However, on Friday a return to southerly winds will be accompanied by warmer temperatures and partly cloudy skies.

Oil Drilling Holes Labeled as Hazards

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP)—Portage County Sheriff Ross Dustman says there should be a state law against oil and gas drillers not filling or fencing off their excavations.

"They're either going to have to fill the holes or build fences because they (the holes) are dangerous to kids and livestock," Dustman said Wednesday. He said he has warned several drillers to do so and they promised to fill the holes immediately. Three sheep and a cow fell in such holes recently and died.

Members Get Close Look At Autogyro

Largest turnout in its brief history was recorded for last evening's monthly session of Circleville Flying Assn.

Chief attraction was the demonstration of a one-man, build-it-yourself autogyro.

Piloted by Ray Hite of Baltimore, the Bensen whirlybird required little runway space because of its verticle lift capabilities.

Arranged by Mrs. Leon Ostrander, the program also included a weiner and marshmallow roast over a bonfire in front of the main hangar at Thomas Field west of the city.

INITIAL arrangements were made for a mass flight to Muncie, Ind., where local aviation enthusiasts have been invited to inspect the factory of the Muncie Autogyro, a larger and more sophisticated aircraft than the Bensen.

Association spokesmen said that eight local four-place planes will be available for the flight, scheduled for June 27. Persons interested in making the trip may contact Mrs. Ostrander at Thomas Field.

Following the Bensen demonstration, the association heard a report from Dr. Ray Carroll concerning his recent flight by small plane to the Bahamas.

Final item on the agenda was a series of flights over the city during darkness. Planes participating were piloted by Ostrander, Carroll and Kenneth Musselman.

Next meeting of the association is scheduled for July 8.

Judge Studies NLRB Data On Armco

CINCINNATI (AP) — Unfair labor practice charges against the Armco Steel Corp. in connection with a union election at its Middletown, plant been taken under advisement.

The charges were filed by the National Labor Relations Board, which asked U. S. District Judge John W. Peck for an injunction to stop Armco from forbidding the United Steelworkers Union to pass out literature in the plant during non-working hours.

The steelworkers are trying for the fourth time in recent years to bust the Armco Employees Independent Federation as bargaining agent for several thousand workers at Middletown and Hamilton. The collective bargaining election will be held next Thursday.

The dispute hinges on a clause in Armco's contract with the independent union.

Armco's attorney Jerome Powell of Washington said the clause prohibits distribution of such literature and that the ban cannot be waived without the independent union's consent. Atty. James Fitzpatrick of Washington, representing the NLRB, argued that the ban interfered with the employees' individual rights.

GRADUATE — Doyne N. Wiggins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Wiggins, Route 4, Circleville, was one of the 1,132 students receiving degrees Sunday at Ohio University. Wiggins, a 1960 graduate of Circleville High School, received a bachelor of science degree in education.

HIS THIRD CADILLAC... HIS FIRST NEW ONE

This man is enjoying his first brand-new Cadillac—after becoming acquainted with the car's unsurpassed value by twice buying used Cadillacs.

He learned that a late model used Cadillac gave him more standard equipment and engineering advancements than most new cars.

First of all, while Cadillac's styling was continually refined, it never lost the clean, dignified look that says Cadillac and Cadillac alone. The smooth, quiet performance and complete reliability of his used Cadillac was a constant source of enjoyment. Then, too, he and his family enjoyed luxury and comfort to a degree reserved exclusively for Cadillac owners.

The pride of ownership of so distinctive a car was a never-ending pleasure, for he had the satisfaction—always—of knowing he drove the finest.

When it came time to trade his previously owned Cadillac for a later model, he found its value had held remarkably high... and returned a substantial part of his original investment.

So what could be more natural—or wise—than to make the eventual move to a new Cadillac?

New or used, there is no finer motoring investment than a Cadillac. And new or used, your authorized dealer has one to fit any budget. There's never been a better time to invest in the finest of them all.

Romney Hits Management, Labor Powers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The way to cure the economic ills of the nation is to take away the "concentration of economic power" from management and labor and return it to the people, according to Gov. George W. Romney of Michigan.

Romney, considered a potential contender for the Republican presidential nomination, made the remarks Wednesday night at a $100-a-plate fundraising dinner held by the Central Ohio GOP organization.

"We once put economic power in the hands of individuals as customers through competition," Michigan's chief executive said.

"As a result, the economic discipline of the nation came from the people, not from government."

Wittenberg Gives Nod To Record Budget

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—The highest budget in the school's history—$5,394,277—has been approved by Wittenberg University's trustees.

The board also authorized its committee on buildings and grounds to proceed with construction of the music wing of a new music and drama building estimated to cost $2.5 million. It also gave the go-ahead to construction planning on three new fraternity and three sorority houses.

But under former President Franklin D. Roosevelt, he continued, "we wrote labor laws which foster monopoly in collective bargaining. We made it possible for management and labor to concentrate their power."

The result is the destruction of competition between companies in an industry, Romney said.

The people as a determining economic factor is removed, and instead the industries look to Washington to solve their problems when management and labor cannot agree, he said.

Too Late To Care

No parent would deliberately allow a child to wander into the path of peril. Nevertheless, in some cases, a mother or father must share the blame when a child is hit by an automobile. The problem for law enforcement officers is where to draw the line between responsibility and irresponsibility.

The line, sometimes, is a thin one. But in many cases it emerges tragically clear.

Any parent knows that regardless of good intent, it is impossible to keep watch over one's children every minute and every second of the day. Tots and toddlers are impishly adroit at eluding the parental eye and restraining hand.

But there is a gulf of distinction between occasional distraction and constant disregard. And, as traffic accident investigators have discovered, the supervisory behavior pattern of parents invariably fits into one slot or the other.

In the words of one police official, some parents "just don't seem to care where their youngsters are or what they are doing. When a policeman knocks at the door, it is too late to care."

Can You Remember When — By Hal Boyle

Dieting was practically unheard of. A fat man could spill more calories on his necktie at lunch than a modern doctor would now allow him to eat all day.

When you wanted to go out for an evening of fun on the town, you said, "let's make whoopee!"

A strong dose of epsom salts usually cured anything that ailed you.

No girl who valued her reputation would be seen entering a bowling alley or a billiard parlor.

One of the nuisances of railroad travel in summer was having to get cinders out of your eyes from the steam engine's exhaust.

The nation's No. 1 ideal marriage was that between Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford.

Calvin Coolidge was being hailed as the perfect president.

There was no canned beer in the refrigerator, then known as an icbox. If father wanted an evening drink of beer, he'd send one of the kids with a pail to the nearest saloon. The trick was to grease the sides of the pail with butter. That was supposed to keep down the suds.

The only people in college were married were members of the faculty.

Small towns had hitching posts, no parking meters.

Your congressman was measured not so much by how he voted on international issues but by whether he remembered to send you a packet of free seeds.

Isolationist Now?

By John Chamberlain

"I've just been reading George Kennan's argument that we should disengage ourselves from confronting the Soviet Union in any Cold War concern over the satellites," said Topsy. "And I am struck by a strange likeness between Mr. Kennan and the America First Committee of 1941."

"How can that be," said Topsy. "Kennan is the hero of the internationalists. The America Firsters were isolationists."

"That's what confuses me," said Topsy. "In 1941 you were an isolationist because you wanted to avoid war. In 1964 the same position makes you an internationalist."

"But Hitler was worse than Khrushchev," said Topsy. "After all, he had those concentration camps and practiced genocide against the Jews."

"Haven't you heard," said Topsy, "that Khrushchev permits anti-Semitism in Russia? Yevushenko, the poet, is a witness to this. Only Khrushchev is clever enough to call a Jew a cosmopolitan or a Trotskyist or a capitalist renegade before he gets rid of him. Does this make death or oppression any more palatable?"

"But Mr. Kennan has a point when he says Russia is involved in her troubles with China," said Topsy. "Doesn't this make Khrushchev less dangerous than Hitler?"

"The same sort of question was rhetorically posed by Herbert Hoover, Robert Taft and even Harry Truman when the Nazis got embroiled with Russia in 1941," said Topsy. "But it was isolationist then to advocate, as Truman did, that we let the Nazis and the Communists claw each other to pieces."

"But what's the matter with avoiding war?" asked Topsy. "It seems to me that keeping out of trouble is a good thing no matter what you are called."

"I couldn't agree with you more," said Topsy. "But the question is, does disengagement from Russia keep you out of trouble? It seems to me that when some one is pressing against you, it might help to keep him off balance to press back just a little bit harder, 'but that's brinkmanship'," said Topsy.

"Not necessarily," said Topsy. "It's merely a question of what you regard as negotiable, his pawn or yours. Why is it brinkmanship to try to negotiate Khrushchev out of Cuba if he wants some machine tools delivered at Odessa? Why, for that matter, is it a 'war for liberation' when the North Vietnamese slip into South Vietnam by way of Laos jungle trails, and an 'imperialist plot' when anti-Castro Cubans slip into Cuba's Oriente province by way of Central America? What you

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—The most tantalizing whodunit of the season is who is going to get the biggest boost out of the federal income tax cut.

The Commerce Department has asked manufacturers about their sales prospects and reports them feeling that they for one will benefit in the form of rising sales.

Their redactions are notably more expansive than just three months ago. Part of this is because they feel the tax cut is going to help their salesmen in dealings with optimistic customers. Also sales already have risen faster than they had expected and they feel that the confidence born from the tax cut is a major factor there, too.

The survey of 1,200 large manufacturers shows them expecting sales to advance right through September at least, at a pace of 2 per cent or better, breaking records along the way.

The manufacturers have to share with a number of others this feeling that the tax cut is just the thing to help them a lot in coming months.

Insurance salesmen are urging old customers to expand their coverage and tackling new prospects who have moved up a notch financially.

Investment houses and stock brokers are eyeing the windfall as money that could be channeled into securities.

Travel agents and recreation managers are confident that families will put any savings into more fun or longer trips, or more expensive facilities.

Savings institutions, however, are sure that they'll get a good deal of the increased take home pay, at least in the early months.

The Commerce Department reports that its earlier survey had shown manufacturers expecting factory sales to go up $900 million in the first three months of this year. In fact, they went up $2.9 billion to a record $109.1 billion for the period.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Almost from the time foreign aid began 17 years ago there has been a kind of game every year between the President, any president, and Congress over money.

Wednesday, suddenly, the game stopped.

But until then this was the yearly routine: Whatever the President asked for, Congress cut down. Then he got along with the money Congress voted. The same thing the next year, and the same result. The big exception was that first time in 1947.

Because Greece and Turkey were threatened by communism President Truman asked $400 million in a hurry, and Congress gave it to him. Later that year he proposed a much bigger aid program for Western Europe, the Marshall Plan.

It got going the next year when Congress gave him $6 billion instead of the $6.8 billion he asked. The game was on. As the years passed the critical mood in Congress and the country toward foreign aid hardened.

The criticism went in a number of directions, of which these are only a few: The prospering Allies weren't doing their share of aiding backward countries; too much waste; some of the receiving countries weren't showing enough self-discipline and cooperation. On it went.

Last year the game between President and Congress came to a boil when President John F. Kennedy pulled a tactical boner.

On Jan. 17, 1963 he asked $4.9

billion in foreign aid but this was just about a month after he had set up a special 10-man committee, headed by Gen. Lucius D. Clay, to study the whole aid problem.

By the end of March, which was before the dawdling Congress ever really got down to work on Kennedy's request, the Clay committee came in with its report. It was a contradictory and often foggy document.

But it had a lot of critical things to say about the aid program, which gave support to some of the congressional critics who had practically made a career of being foreign aid economists.

The Clay committee seemed to suggest — "seemed" is the necessary word here because of the fog — that Kennedy could get along with $4.4 billion instead of the $4.9 billion he said he needed.

Kennedy promptly and obligingly cut his original request down to $4.5 billion, which just bolstered the argument of those who had always claimed any President's foreign aid request was full of fat and unnecessary padding.

To make a long story short — and it was a very long story — Congress finally authorized spending only $3.6 billion. Nothing shows better the dawdling condition of the Congress last year.

It didn't do the authorizing on President Kennedy's request until Dec. 9, and by then he was dead. And the $3.6 billion it approved was $1.3 billion less than he had originally asked.

But when Congress authorizes spending, it's just saying what the ceiling must be. After that it must vote the appropriations, the actual amount of money it will let the President have to spend.

It wasn't until Dec. 30 that it finished the appropriations bill originally asked. This year President Johnson did a complete switch in the routine.

He asked for only $3.5 billion and said that was rock bottom. And meanwhile, a real pro in dealing with Congress, he went before opening their parachutes.

Ohio Marine Helps Set Parachute Mark

WASHINGTON (AP)—Marine Cpl. Robert J. Reinhard of Fort Recovery, Ohio, and eight other marines have set a world record for team jumping at night, the Marine Corps has announced.

The Marine announcement said that on June 6 at Ft. Bragg, N. C., the leatherneck chutists jumped from 44,100 feet, eclipsing a record of 41,500 feet set by a Russian team in 1961. They free-fell to 1,800 feet before opening their parachutes.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Beef is hard to beat as a main course this weekend, with prices staying low and the selection of special attractions very wide.

Fresh vegetables and fresh fruit counters display a variety of hue and flavor that heralds the coming season.

Top beef buys include chuck and rib roasts, round steaks and sirloin steaks, plus ground beef in many shops. Many stores are specially promoting cook-out items.

Pork production is beginning to diminish after two years of expansion, but plenty of items are featured this weekend. Bacon is a star at many shops, with loins, hams and smoked butts also featured. Cookout fans will find spareribs offered reasonably.

At produce counters, features include asparagus, field peas, okra, sweet corn, spinach, green peppers, cucumbers, radishes. Also offered are cabbage, lettuce, green onions, leafy greens, green beans, yellow squash, broccoli and sweet potatoes.

Fruit offerings are especially colorful. They include blueberries, cherries, apricots, mangoes, peaches, strawberries, limes, plums and blackberries. These are among the new features, joining a list that has prevailed for several weeks, including oranges, watermelon, cantaloup, and rhubarb.

Dairy counters offer a wide selection during June Dairy Month, and eggs continue to be offered at featured prices.

Twenty-five new campgrounds have been added to national parks since 1963. These have increased the total to 519 facilities capable of accommodating 26,626 families every night.

Wednesday, the result was almost a miracle. The House authorized practically every penny of the $3.5 billion Johnson said he needed. The Senate still has to act. And after that both houses must decide on the appropriation.

Maybe before it's over Johnson will get less than he asked. In its own way this is as big an achievement for Johnson as getting the railroad dispute settled earlier this year without a strike.

It was the first time anything like this has happened since 1947.

Pickaway Twp.
Alumni Banquet

There were 122 alumni and guests present when the 1964 Pickaway Twp. Alumni banquet was held in the Logan Elm School cafeteria.

A steak dinner was prepared and served by Emmett Chapel WSCS with Mrs. Sam Dearth as chairman. Mrs. Willard England gave the invocation. Robert Wilson served as toastmaster for the occasion. The class of 1959 had the most members present.

The class of 1939 was recognized as this was their 25th year after graduation. Richard Penn, a member of this class, served as spokesman. He introduced the five members present and told the occupation and destination of the other eight members. "The September Song," sung by Patty Moats, was dedicated to this class. The tables were decorated by Mrs. Maxine Pontious and Joyce Boldosier with the class flower, "The Hollywood Rose."

A short business meeting was conducted by Lawrence McKenzie, president. Mrs. Charles Boldosier read the secretary's report. Philip Wilson, treasurer, gave an itemized report of the expenses.

New officers for the coming year were named as follows: David Evans, president; Kenneth Wolford, vice president; Mrs. William McCarty and Mrs. Larry Beougher, secretaries; William Evans, treasurer.

The remainder of the evening was spent dancing to the music of Larry Hines, playing cards and visiting.

Circleville, Ohio
Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren
Is He Serious?

DEAR ABBY: What would you do if your husband came home and told you who he would marry if you were out of the way? That's all he talks about lately. He makes me feel like I should do him a favor and just lay down and die. I am sure that is what he is hoping for because we don't believe in divorce. I don't know the lady he would like me out of the way for, but I asked him once how he knew she would have him and he didn't answer me. I told him I had as much right as anyone, but he is sure making my life miserable. What should I do?

TIED
DEAR TIRED: Either your husband is off his rocker or he has a peculiar sense of humor. If he's "kidding," tell him he's not funny. And if he is serious, make a serious report to his doctor. He could be sick.

DEAR ABBY: You said the lady should precede the man when walking up the stairs in case she trips so he can catch her. I was taught in my youth that the gentleman should go up the stairs ahead of the lady so that she would not feel self-conscious. If he is behind her she may get the idea that he is ogling her "derriere." And she would probably be correct. So in my opinion, the gentleman should precede the lady.

F.F. IN DAYTON
DEAR F.F.: A gentleman doesn't ogle anything. He follows the lady up the stairs and keeps his eyes on her heel. If he's no gentleman, the lady should keep her eyes on HIM—the heel.

DEAR ABBY: Since when is it a sin to check on what your kids are doing? If people were more concerned about what their offspring are up to there would be a lot less unwed mothers. When I was a girl I wasn't turned loose with every Tom, Dick and Charlie. My mother died when I was 14 and my brothers went along to chaperone me. Don't think it spoiled my fun because it didn't. I never had to chase a fellow to get him, either. When my girls came along I checked to see what they were doing. I didn't read any diary for they never kept one, but if they had, I would likely have read it. And I wouldn't have felt I did wrong. I believe in having trust in your children after you find out you can trust them. Girls today ask for what they get. They can't say, "I didn't know." They know more at nine than I did when I got married. I don't suppose you'll print this, but it's time mothers woke up. When your daughter says, "Mother, John and I done wrong I am expecting a baby," it's too late to go read her diary.

Woodshed Punishment Paying Off in Montana

Editor's Note: Following is the first in a series of two articles telling how two states, Montana and Ohio, are attacking the juvenile delinquency problem.

By JACK J. ZYGMOND
Associated Press Writer

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — Juvenile offenses, an awesome, growing problem in the nation, meet a stiff hand in Montana and a 71-year-old judge who advocates woodshed punishment and tough laws is one of the main reasons.

"Montana," says gray-haired, gruff-voiced Dist. Judge Lester H. Loble, "owns the best juvenile court law in the nation."

Tough, yes. But former delinquents are coming back to thank him for straightening out their lives. And authorities from as far as Great Britain, deciding they have had enough of young hoods, are taking an interested look at the Loble technique.

From Manchester, England, and Kansas City, Mo.; from Phoenix, Ariz.; Utah, Kentucky, Iowa and elsewhere the queries come in: What have you got?

In Idaho Falls, Idaho, nearly 1,800 persons turned out for a Loble explanation of how he is reducing juvenile felony rates with punishment and wide-spread publicity instead of mollycoddling.

"I probably have the best and most efficient force of probation officers in the land—parents," Loble said in an interview. "The woodshed is coming back, in different parents are diminishing; they don't want the publicity or the heat."

For three years, under a 1961 law he fathered, Loble has been permitting open court hearings for juvenile hoodlums who commit felonies and vicious crimes. Their parents sit in the front row of the courtroom and the cases get full newspaper coverage including the names of the juvenile offenders.

Loble said elsewhere—where secrecy is the law—the crime rate goes up and up. In his division juvenile felony cases are down 49 per cent compared to the three-year period before the Loble law went into effect. Non-felony cases, tried in closed court are down 68 per cent.

The law is simple and Loble admits it doesn't provide a sure-fire cure-all for juvenile delinquency.

It provides that "whenever the hearing in the Juvenile Court is had on a written petition charging the commission of any felony, persons having a legitimate interest in the proceeding, including responsible representatives of public information media, shall not be excluded from such hearing."

The key is the written petition by the county attorney and without it publicity is forbidden. Loble is one of the few judges in Montana taking full advantage of the law. But others are watching it with interest.

Previously the law prevented use of juveniles names under 18 except in specific major crimes, such as murder, when the punishable age limit dropped to 16.

Loble's fight against juvenile crime began in 1956, the year he was elected a district judge with headquarters in Montana's capital city.

He describes his first year as a nightmare, with 99 cases involving serious offenses "and getting worse all the time." The Juvenile Court was a closed court. Helena was getting a lot of publicity, sometimes nationwide, but the offenders got no publicity and Helena residents had no confidence in the court, Loble said.

He then began his drive to put the offender in the spotlight and assume his responsibility as a member of society whether he be 12 or 17.

The people of Helena, he asserted, were not going to be placed in fear of hoodlums.

"The do-gooders, the mollycoddlers and so-called progressive thinkers do not dispute the results. They complain I am a tough judge and am destroying the initiative of the juvenile hoodlum. But it's the misdirected initiative I am destroying."

"Tough, yes. But I spend lots of time on prevention and rehabilitation. For an atrocious offense, I don't spend time trying to talk him out of a life of crime. I can't, even if the social workers think so. Send him to reform school or prison and after he has learned discipline, then he gets an abundance of help from me."

From Texas a former juvenile delinquent writes and wishes he had Loble for a judge—to have stopped him from crime. From Chicago, sixth graders write: "We're glad you're doing this. They (hoodlums) pick on us and beat us too."

Nationwide publicity is mushrooming the demand for Loble as a speaker. Legislative leaders in several states have asked for copies of Montana's open court law. "I don't tell them how to operate their law. I tell them what I'm doing."

He notes that a similar law was introduced in Utah's legislative assembly.

"In the big cities, the fact that law is flaunted is not the fault of the police. They're the fall guys," Loble said. "Too often the delinquent never sees a judge. The case or social worker, inherently opposed to punishment, is out for rehabilitation."

In a letter entitled "this I know," the judge declares that prevention and rehabilitation programs are not enough.

"Open courts establish public confidence. It is a myth that publicity glamorizes the juvenile and makes him worse. Any juvenile, or adult, who likes to see his name in the paper as a criminal is in a class with those who threaten witnesses. He is dangerous and should be so dealt with. My experience shows the quickest way to break up a gang is a public hearing, naming names and having the blame placed where it belongs, on the hoodlum and his parents."

No juvenile has yet asked that Loble be disqualified as a judge in a case.

In nonfelony cases, Loble's court is closed. "we can lay our cards on the table," he said. "The offender may be placed on probation, but he's told that if he comes back he'd better bring a toothbrush because he's going to stay for awhile."

"The twin enemies of crime are fear of punishment and fear of publicity," he said, adding: "Discipline begins in the high chair, not the electric chair." Loble knows his way around legislative as well as judicial chambers.

In 1923, as a Montana legislator, Loble introduced what he says "was the first old age pension bill ever passed in the United States." It was a county seat, issued the first pension check.

In 1935, Loble was among a committee of 15 called to Washington, D. C., to draw the first Social Security bill. He said the first federal legislation included sections from Montana's law.

2 Good Family Pictures Turned Out by Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It's a pleasure to report two attractions which the family can attend without boring the adults: "The Unsinkable Molly Brown" and "The World of Henry Orient."

"Molly" is the second of Meredith Willson's sunny musicals to be filmed and the first to be improved in the movie version.

"Music Man" somehow lost its small-town flavor as a film. But "Molly," with its rhapsodies to frontier life, was a natural for movies, and the MGM treatment is big—wide, sun-splashed landscapes; open-throated singing and uninhibited dancing; acting without subtle touches.

Nasty Hangover For African Cow

DURBAN, Natal Province, South Africa (AP) — It was not water that suddenly began coursing down the dry bed of a stream at Edendale, near Pietermaritzburg, in the Natal Province. But a cow standing listlessly on the bank was not to know that.

She took a few tentative licks — and then began drinking with extraordinary enthusiasm. The result was a hangover that lasted for days.

The source of her jag? Upstream a squad of policemen had emptied nearly 3,000 gallons of moonshine into the bed of the stream. They discovered the illicit liquor in 64 44-gallon drums buried in the ground over a distance of 150 yards. Only the tops of the drums were visible.

Driver Exam Time Change Starts Monday

Tomorrow and Saturday will be the last times the local drivers license examination station will be open on the last two days of the week, it was announced today by Sgt. S. L. Adomaitis, commander of the Circleville Patrol Post.

Beginning Monday the exam station will be open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Mondays and Tuesdays.

Sgt. Adomaitis pointed out the time for examinations had been set back an hour. Original hours, which will also be in effect for the last time this weekend, were from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m.

In citing reasons for the change, the sergeant said crowded conditions on Saturdays were becoming intolerable for examinees and examiners in many areas.

The change effects examination stations throughout the state.

Circleville Graced by Tiny, Pretty Gas Light Posy Park

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the first of a series of articles to be presented on the Garden Page of The Herald which will deal with landscaping and planting done by businesses and industries in the area. We believe that plantings, skillfully designed and well maintained, add immeasurably to the pleasure of the citizens of the community. We believe, too, that a garden project, be it an extensive one or merely a box of posies, shows business pride and civic spirit. Alas, such plantings add few coins to the coffers. And once a horticultural plan is undertaken it means daily, weekly and monthly maintenance — not for one season but down through the years. Today we salute Columbia Gas Co. of Ohio, Inc. Theirs is the most recent landscape addition to downtown Circleville.

A tiny park has transformed a rather dismal corner at Watt and N. Court St. into a refreshing and eye-catching sight.

The corner, just five weeks ago, was a gravel parking lot. Or rather the 20 by 20 bit of a green garden used to be the parking space for two cars in a gravel parking lot. And what a difference it makes to Circleville.

When we consulted G. Ninde Lawson, manager of the local Columbia Gas Co. of Ohio office, he said the inspiration for the corner came from the Columbus offices where there is a much larger garden area. It is in downtown Columbus and all else is concrete so that the little park is indeed a welcome sight. A former golf greens man maintains the Columbus garden.

Regardless of inspiration, Circleville's new Gas Light Posy Park is a delightful addition to the city.

WHEN THE gas company started to blacktop their parking lot, space was allotted for the little garden. Clarence Wardell was commissioned to put a curb around the little square and make the brick planter which was to be centered with a gas light.

The tiny park is simplicity itself in design. There is a grass area, handsome little arbovitae trees on the east and south sides, ground-hugging junipers at the front corners and the brick planter with the gas light in the center.

One might think it was all a relatively simple operation to build the tiny park. But on the contrary, terrific difficulties were encountered. That is terrific for anybody but the gas company.

Underneath the spot for the park they found the old interurban ties deeply imbedded in concrete. This would mean, of course, poor drainage for the new park.

However, with the company's heavy equipment (drills and the like) they managed to break up the concrete. Then the curbing was built, the brick planter constructed, the gas light placed, the soil brought in and the park was ready for planting.

Actually the planting took little or no time. How about the beautiful stand of grass? Well that was grown elsewhere and the sod laid on top. It will need careful watching until the roots take hold.

LAWSON plans to roll it, water it and not mow it too closely for awhile. In the planter are petunias, about a flat of them, starting already to bloom.

These must be pinched from time to time to make bushier plants. Ninde says that Mrs. Lawson told him this and started pinching when she saw the plants.

In fact the new Gas Light Posy Park is ready for summer. The Gas Co. manager proudly pointed out that the grass area was absolutely weedless. He then glanced darkly across the street at the pleasant and beautiful little garden in front of the General Telephone building.

"If," he said, "we find weeds in our little park we'll know exactly where they came from." In short we gathered that Donald Colgrove, local manager for the telephone company, will have to look to his gardening laurels or there'll be some feudin' on N. Court St.

Located about halfway between Columbus and Cleveland, Mansfield and Kingwood Center may be conveniently reached by the new freeway, Interstate Route 71, U. S. Route 30, or Ohio Route 13 from the Ohio Turnpike.

Kocher has hybrid teas also that bloom most satisfactorily. He spends a good part of his time working with his flowers.

Yes, the rose curtains are functional as well as eye-catching. They shade the big porch from the western sun. "Keeps the house cooler to have them," he says.

Garden Gossip

The Solagua Garden Club's Annual Rose Breakfast will be held at Prairie Lanes Bowling Alley tomorrow, June 12 will catch the roses on the wane this year. But the cool weather has been good for them and there will be roses aplenty for the show which is a part of the event. They will start serving breakfast at 9:30 a. m. Deadline for the flower exhibit, however, is 10:30 a. m. This is one of the nicest of garden club events. It's open to the general public and reservations are not necessary.

Mrs. James Hott, Ashville, is chairman of the rose breakfast flower show. Mrs. Hott is a gardener of real excellence. We would regard her as blessed with the green thumb if ever a person were so blessed. But she admitted with a grin the other day that she would like to have back the money she has spent on flowers that did not grow in her garden.

Mrs. James Jackson, Ewington, who is in Circleville on Wednesdays instructing flower arranging classes, said she would like to have the money back on all the roses she had bought in her life time.

We asked Ervin Kocher, S. Pickaway St. if he had suffered any rose loss this past winter. He said he lost one hybrid tea and his Dr. Van Fleet climber had died down to its roots.

Actually there was considerable winter kill this year. Nevertheless, it has been a wonderful year for roses. Because of the cool weather they have lasted a long time.

Mrs. Ralph Curtin's Dr. Van Fleet climber at the corner of her front fence was exquisite this past week. It is a most delicate and beautiful rose. The Curtins live at 124 E. Union St.

When we passed the Red Rose Feed Co. on E. Main St. I was ogling the rows of Frensham floribundas that bloom there each year. My companion said, "I suppose you'll mention them again on the garden page this year." Yes, indeed, I will. I regard them as a landmark of real beauty. They are ever so old. Ten years at least! But they weather all the bad winters.

Ronald Imler, Route 1 Kingston, was talking about the cold weather we have been having in late May and June. He says that there was light snow fall on Decoration Day back in 1902.

He knows this because a friend in Lucasville buried his son on Decoration Day, 1902. And his friend often spoke of it.

We went to see the roses at Emmitt Toole's Route 4, Circleville. They were indeed lovely. One of the prettiest was "Ma Perkins." This looks like "Fashion" and I have always had trouble telling them apart.

The Tooles have the old fashioned purple climber. It is definitely purple. Compared to the blued pink, of all the other so-called lavender roses we wonder why it is not used as a parent to create a really violent rose.

Yes, the William Weldon's purple rose is blooming. It is the same old fashioned climber. The Weldon's live on the corner of Union and Court Sts.

Ninde Lawson is proud of the grass at the Gas Company's little park. But he has his own private grass problems at Knollwood Village where he lives. Just too much shade!

Mrs. Ralph Boggs, W. Union St., has had great pleasure from two pansy plants that she wintered over. They have bloomed consistently all spring. They were in a relatively protected place.

We asked Mrs. Boggs if she thought it was too late to plant seeds like marigolds and zinnias. Two years ago she raised the finest of marigolds from seeds planted in July. And when she lived on the farm she used to save seeds from a packet and plant them at intervals of two or three weeks.

Mrs. Boggs says she is not so good with rake and spade now, but that she can take her trusty knife and do considerable gardening with it.

Roses are truly fine this season. Miss Alice Ada May, W. Union St., has some excellent specimens. She has hers planted right in the grass along Scioto St.

Their neighbors tell me the Paul Hangs have lovely roses. They also live on W. Union St.

It isn't just a green thumb that keeps the M. E. Noggles' yard so beautiful. It's hard work. For instance when Myrtle Noggle heard there was danger of frost, she covered their little Bonanza peach. This adorable little tree, not over two feet high, has fruit on it. And Myrtle was not about to let the frost get her peaches.

This is the little peach tree that looked so like an artificial plant when it was in bloom.

Mrs. Robert Farmer, Route 1, Kingston, is just quite pleased with her flowers this spring. Her eight rose bushes are in bloom at the side of the house along with the petunias and portulaca. In back she has the start of a perennial garden. Here she plants the things that are given to her by friends. She divided her chrysanthemums and has a whole row in the perennial garden.

Mrs. Walter Sale, W. Mound St., is an enthusiastic gardener. Right now it's her Bibb lettuce that she's working on. When she transplants she takes her little stool to the garden and her bucket and dipper and goes to work.

Katy White, 132 1/2 E. Main St., has raised the most beautiful columbine from seeds that Miss Helen Hoffman has ever seen. Helen saw them, not in the garden but in the doctor's office where Katy works. Katy had a charming little bouquet of flowers that she had raised.

Miss Miriam Weaver, 469 Half Ave., lives next door to her mother. They do their gardening together, we understand, and frequently have beautiful effects.

Mrs. Fred Corcoran, William sport community, has delphinium at peak bloom. We are planning to visit the garden soon and learn the secret of delphinium growing. Very tricky work! Delphinium is said to be one of the five most beautiful flowers. We asked the person who told us this what the other four were and he said he had forgotten.

It's a nice gesture to take a bouquet to your place of business. At the Herald office we saw a big bunch of roses in which was one enormous rose. We were told it was Pink Peace. The flowers had been brought by Mark Schumm, N. Pickaway St.

Merle Greeno, 351 E. Ohio St., took some choice roses to the office of the Eshelman Feed Co. The Greeno roses are exceptional every year. But we understand that Merle really hit the jackpot this year.

Unique Dove Nest Victim Of Windstorm

Bill Vaughan dropped in The Herald office with a picture (in color) of a dove nesting in his front porch light.

He just wanted The Herald folks to know that birds in Circleville chose funny places to nest as well as birds in Pennsylvania. The Herald recently carried a picture of a Pennsylvania bird nesting on a door light.

The garden editor grabbed the picture for her page. In the meantime, when Mrs. C. K. Vaughan was called for further details, she said the windstorm and rain had played havoc with the dove's nest. The Vaughans, who live at 335 Woodlane, found the nest had blown down, the dove had gone and the lone egg had rolled to the ground.

The calamity was frustrating to the Vaughans, as well as to the dove, because the entire family had been easing in and out the front door with greatest care for days on end. "Just the way one does when there's a cake in the oven," said Mrs. Vaughan.

WE HAVE been told by bird lovers that doves are notably careless nest builders. They are so much in love and so anxious to get at the business of raising a family they build without thought for the future.

But anyway, the Vaughans' dove did prove indeed that Circleville birds get a warm welcome — even if they build on the front door light.

The picture? Well it was in color and not suitable for black and white newspaper reproduction.

Burpee Presented Gardening Award

The "dean of American seedmen, David Burpee of Philadelphia, has been presented with the 1964 American Home Achievement Medal "For outstanding contribution to America's gardening" by Hubbard H. Cobb, editor of The American Home magazine, in the "Golden Rondelle" Marigold Garden at the Johnson's Wax pavilion at the World's Fair.

Quoting the award citation, Cobb said: "The American Home Achievement Medal is awarded to David Burpee for his constant effort, over many years, to improve the equality of annual flowers — notably marigolds, zinnias, snapdragons and petunias — and for his many successful activities that have served to dramatize the seed industry and to bring flowers and gardening to the attention of the public."

The 40-year-old Achievement Medal is annually awarded to an individual chosen by the presidents of all 44 national horticultural organizations in the U. S. from a list of candidates submitted by American Home editors and consultants.

SNOWY MOUNDS OF CANDYTUFT — Mrs. Reynold Williams and her son, Reynold Jr., kneel to examine plants of the Iberis Sempervirens Snowflake, which border the foundation planting in front of their house. The home is white with peach trim. The candytuft picked up the white of the house and made a pretty picture through April and May when it bloomed. The Williams' home is located at 300 Avon Drive. This easily grown perennial plant is green throughout the winter.

Williams Use Old Favorite Flowering Plant with Flare

Perennial candytuft is a much loved April-May blooming, low growing plant.

Formerly used as a rock garden plant, it is found in many local gardens. But nowhere have we seen it grown to better advantage than at the Reynold Williams home at 300 Avon Drive.

At the Williams' home it borders the foundation planting. This one story house is white with peach trim. Nothing Mrs. Williams selected could have set off her home more than snowy mounds of this lovely old time favorite.

Perennial candytuft is also known as Iberis. The variety that stays green all winter is known as Iberis Sempervirens. A choice named variety is "snowflake" and is one of the showiest of low growing white plants.

IBERIS when used with a flare is one of the most magnificent white perennials. It is of spreading habit, subshrubby at base forming cushions of green foliage which are pleasing even without bloom.

Propagation is easily made from cuttings rooted in June. Plants may be pulled to pieces in September and replanted.

If the plant is to be divided dig the entire plant up and separate. Do not try to dig at the roots and break off a portion. Iberis may be planted from seeds, but does not come true to variety. Here is a plant that dents returned ballots. Burpee was elected over 12 other outstanding nominees.

is easy to grow. It takes a well drained soil and does well in full sun and partial shade.

New Hershey Book On Wild Flowers Is Good Reading

The widely read garden author, Jean Hershey, has a new book out. It is "Wild Flowers to Know and Grow."

Published by Van Nostrand, 120 Alexander St., Princeton, N. J., this book is important because it gives a novel way to identify wildlings.

Mrs. Hershey shows her readers how to know plants by season and color rather than by family. There are 100 color illustrations.

Best of all, Mrs. Hershey tells you how to have a successful wild flower garden. And here is an author who practices what she preaches. She has one of her own in Connecticut where she grows more than 100 kinds of wildlings.

FLOWER SPEECHES PROBABLE — A House Administration subcommittee is holding hearings to decide if it can agree on one of five flowers proposed for a national flower. Under consideration are the rose, suggested by Reps. Thaddeus Dulski, D-N.Y., and Lindley Beckworth, D-Tex.; shasta daisy, Rep. J. Arthur Younger, R-Calif.; American marigold, Rep. Thomas Curtis, R-Mo.; poinsettia, Rep. Joe Kilgore, D-Tex., and corn tassel, Rep. John Kyl, R-Iowa. Public opinion favors the rose, 18 to 1. So does Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, candidate for the GOP presidential nomination.

Moscow Gets Sudden Burst of Foliage

MOSCOW (AP) — Vegetable plants are coming up in the window boxes of apartment buildings that house most of Moscow's 6.4 million residents. Flowers are growing gaily in the many parks that dot Moscow. In the gardens under the Kremlin walls and inside the Kremlin, tulips have been blooming. Yellow wildflowers mingle with the grass.

It is a lush growth, this sudden burst of foliage in the brief northern summer. Trees, transparent most of the year turn overnight into dense canopies of green. Grass along the wide boulevards is more than lush—it is unkempt in most places. The city devotes much effort to keeping streets and walks clear of snow during the long winter. Men and, predominantly, women are out shoveling. Some of them, including the women, dig ditches in the summer. Few are deployed with lawn mowers. If the city does not cut the grass, no one does. Living in apartment houses is not conducive to taking pride in a well-kept yard. That is one of the problems of the Soviet Union. Collective ownership leads to a lack of personal interest. The country cousins of Moscow residents produce an estimated half of the national agricultural value on the 3.3 per cent of farmed land that is private kitchen plots. All the collective and state farms supply only half.

Food supplies for the capital are adequate, even if the private market has to be searched for things unavailable in state stores. As with so many things, waiting in line is a frequent experience in buying food.

Many get to work by subway, too many. The subway system is a showpiece for tourists and state visitors. They are taken during the slack hours to see the magnificent murals and mosaics deep underground.

During the rush hours people are packed so tightly into the inadequate entrances and exits they ignore the murals and mosaics.

The city has growth rings, like a tree.

Apartment houses in the center are solidly built of stone. A bit farther out are brick buildings that look, both inside and out, at least twice as old as they are. The newest growth ring, marching across the fields and into the birch forests, is composed of prefabricated apartment buildings.

A tremendous desire for more housing remains, however, since the last decade's construction represents most of the additional housing since Moscow's population was 4.14 million in 1939.

No Anti-Goldwater Coalition Is Seen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican National Chairman William E. Miller said today a coalition of seven or eight top Republican leaders might be able to stop Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona from winning the party's presidential nomination, "but I can't see any such coalition forming."

German Youth Still Loyal To Memory of John Kennedy

By OMER ANDERSON
Central Press Association
Correspondent

BONN, Germany — The day President Kennedy was assassinated the American ambassador in Bonn, George McGhee, received two autographed portraits from Mr. Kennedy with the request that they be presented to two small German girls, Waldtraut Schmidt, 7, and Heidi Kuehlmann, 8.

Ironically, these were the girls who broke through police lines on President Kennedy's trip here last June. Slipping past the Secret Service men, the two girls went directly up to the surprised Mr. Kennedy as he stopped at the foot of the plane ramp. Curtsying, they handed him bouquets of flowers they had picked from their family gardens.

It was a spontaneous gesture — something that had never occurred before in West Germany, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and Chancellor Ludwig Erhard are fond of children, but theirs is a grandfatherly relationship.

With Mr. Kennedy, it was different. German youth identified themselves with him in a way they have with no other political leader, German or foreign, in modern German history.

He was young, he was glamorous, he was gifted and he headed with mature wisdom the government of the most powerful country on earth. On his trip here, German newspapers saluted Mr. Kennedy, a again with bitter irony, as "the man who literally has everything."

Concrete Block Falls, Killing Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — S. T. Tyes, 40, of Cleveland, died in Huron Road Hospital Wednesday four hours after he was hit on the head by a 20-pound concrete block that fell 200 feet from a high rise apartment building. Tyes was unloading material from his truck when he was struck by the block, which slipped off an outside elevator at the 22nd floor of the Crystal Towers apartment building.

Former Tiger Grid Coach At Portsmouth

Carl Benhase Resigns At Hanover College After 0-9 Season

Carl Benhase, who guided football teams at Circleville High School from 1959 through 1962, has been named head grid coach at Portsmouth High School, it has been announced by the board of education there.

Benhase had been head coach at Hanover College, Hanover, Ind., for the past year. He fills a vacancy left when the Portsmouth Board of Education refused to renew the contract of Bill Apel who served as head coach.

Benhase is a graduate of Miami University where he played under Woody Hayes, now coach at Ohio State. He was head coach at Berne Union in Fairfield County from 1956 through 1958.

In three seasons at Berne Union teams compiled a record of 21 wins, three losses and three ties.

AT CIRCLEVILLE Benhase compiled a record of 27 wins, 10 losses and two ties. In 1961, he guided Circleville to a championship in the South Central Ohio League and in 1962 the Tigers were undefeated with a perfect 10-0 record.

Last year at Hanover, his teams failed to win a game. His overall record is 48 wins, 22 losses and five ties in eight years as a head coach.

Laurelville Employs Two New Coaches

Two new coaches have been employed by the Laurelville Board of Education.

William Meyer will be head football coach at the Hocking County school during the coming season. He will assist with the basketball duties.

Dale Wilson will be head basketball and baseball coach, in addition to teaching biology and general science.

Meyer is a graduate of Glenville State Teacher's College in West Virginia. He taught and coached at John Glenn High School in New Concord last year.

WILSON is a graduate of Ohio University, with five years teaching experience.

He taught at Fairfield-Union High School last year and is attending Dennison University this summer for advanced study and part time teaching in biology.

Athletic teams at Laurelville compete in the Scioto Valley Conference. Other member schools of the Conference are Logan Elm, Westfall, Piketon, Unioto and Paint Valley.

Laurelville High had no track or baseball teams this spring.

Other teachers employed by the Laurelville board are Mrs. William Meyer, who will teach English and serve as librarian, and Glenn Christy, who will be principal of grades 7-12 and serve as guidance counselor.

The champion Boston Celtics were held to less than 105 points in two of their five basketball playoff games against San Francisco. They lost one, 115-91, but won the other, 98-95.

Indelicate Debate Rages Over Position of Navel

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Perhaps indelicately, but dead seriously, the issue concerns the level of the navel.

Angelo Dundee, Rodriguez' handler, appeared before the Nevada boxing commission Wednesday and bluntly charged that Griffith wears his trunks too high.

"Every time he gets hit legitimate at the waistline, he screams foul because he wears his waistline up around his armpits," Dundee declared, taking some liberties with the truth.

Griffith also rolls the top of his trunks over the wide belt of his protective cup, which further adds to the high rise, said Dundee, adding: "It would take a search warrant to locate Griffith's belly button."

Retorted Gil Clancy, Griffith's co-manager: "Maybe we could paint a new belly button on Emile. Up higher, of course."

Still in serious vein, Dundee demanded that the commission order a personal check of the matter and the Griffith people quickly requested the same examination be made of Rodriguez' fighting gear.

So executive secretary Jim Deskin dutifully went to their respective headquarters and had each fighter pose in his ring costume for the nationally televised 15-rounder Friday night.

Reporting back with tongue in cheek, Deskin said: "I can announce that both of them have navels. Griffith's is one-quarter inch smaller than Luis' but both are located at the legal height at the waist line."

"I told them to wear their trunks at the waistline and no sneaking around trying to pull them up during the fight."

Deskin said he will instruct the referee to watch, if not contemplate, the respective navels. Rodriguez remained an 8-5 betting favorite to dethrone Griffith, who uncrowned him last June after Emile had lost the title to the Cuban refugee the preceding March.

Riggs, the third Dodger hurler, picked up the win and also lead the hitting attack with a three for three performance. Gary Costilow was charged with the loss. The Reds' Keith Roesse's two doubles and a single, good for seven runs batted in, was wasted in a losing effort.

Gary Lambert's two-out 2-run home run in the last inning gave the Indians a hard-earned 6-3 win over the Giants. A mound duel between Van Gregg of the Giants and Brent Roof of the Indians developed as each team took turns taking the lead.

The Indians opened the scoring in the first inning with a walk, single and Scott Umstead's first of two triples, good for a 2 to 0 lead. Steve Logsdon's two-run triple in the fifth gave the Giants a temporary 3-2 lead thus setting the stage for Lambert's blast. Brent Roof was the winner striking out 13 and walking seven while Van Gregg whiffed 16 and walked four. Each team garnered five hits. Scott Umstead's three for three which included two triples and a double paced the winning Indians. Steve Logsdon's two for two led the Giants attack. The league's seventh team, the Mets, were idle with a bye.

Jay Collects Third Win in Relief Role

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Joey Jay lost 18 games for Cincinnati last season and demanded only last month that he be traded.

But it is partly because of the 28-year-old right-hander that the Redlegs have won six of their last seven decisions in a drive that has carried them to within 2 1/2 games of the National League lead.

Jay was a starting pitcher when he won 21 games for the Reds in 1961 and again in 1962, but his major contributions this spring have been in the role of fireman. The 6-4, 225-pounder has made six relief appearances since May 23 and allowed one run in 14 1/3 innings.

Wednesday night he pitched two scoreless innings of relief and got credit for his third victory in five decisions as the Redlegs beat the Los Angeles Dodgers in 11 innings, 5-4. Leo Cardenas singled home the game-winning run off loser Ron Ferranowski (2-2).

The loss was the 11th in 15 one-run decisions this year for the Dodgers, who find their pitching staff in tatters as they prepared to send Don Drysdale (7-5) to the mound tonight against St. Louis right-hander Ray Washburn (2-3).

Members qualifying for the Southeastern Ohio Golf Assn. tournament, scheduled June 19, 20 and 21 at the Lancaster Country Club, have been announced by Tom Cassidy, Pickaway Country Club pro.

To qualify, golfers played 36 holes at the Pickaway Country Club. Ten players were chosen to represent PCC.

Here is a list of the qualifiers and their scores: Bill Sibbick, 151; Maynard Eaton, 154; Dean MacFadden, Don Dawson, Bob Moon and Tom Eveland, 155; Brent Bell, 156; George Fuhrman and Steve Helwagen, 158; and Bob MacFadden, 159. Alternates are Bud Hritz, 160; Tom McGuire, 161 and Steve Brudzinski, 163.

The Pickaway Country Club held its Pro-Am tourney last week. The golfers vied for three honors — best ball foursome, best ball twosome and low pro.

Circleville won the best ball foursome. Tom Cassidy, Steve Helwagen, Don Dawson and Bill Heiskell combined to fire a 63.

In the best ball twosome, pro Reno Della Viora teamed with Ed Sneed and then with Jim Brown, as both tied for first place honors in 67s.

Third place in the best ball twosome went to the team of Tom Cassidy and Bill Heiskell and the duo of Reno Della Viora and Tom Hopson. Both teams fired 69s.

Top Pro honors went to Reno Della Viora, who carded a 71. Carl Holden captured second slot with a 74. Tom Cassidy and Jack Phelps tied for third place with 75s.

The Pickaway Club's Men's Golf Assn. team scores were also announced today.

Garnering top spot was team No. 3 with 91 1/2 points. Standings are:

Team No. 7, 80 1/2 points; team No. 2, 76 1/2 points; team No. 5, 75 points; team No. 6, 64 points; team No. 1, 52 points; and team No. 8, 36 1/2 points.

Bill Eddy carded low score last week with a 39 for nine holes. Brent Bell and Dean MacFadden were low this week as both scored 39s.

Singles Win For Toronto In HR Duel

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Toronto finally had to resort to singles to win a home run duel with last-place Atlanta 5-3 in 14 innings Wednesday night and protect their scant half-game lead over surging Jacksonville in the International League.

The Suns continued to apply the pressure with a 5-0 victory over Buffalo, their ninth in the last 11 games. In other games, Syracuse edged Columbus in 11 innings and Richmond nipped Rochester 6-5.

Jim Northrup lashed a triple to the scoreboard to drive in the winning run for Syracuse in the bottom of the 11th. Willie Horton kept the Chiefs in the game in the 10th with a bases-empty home run after Ted Savage had knocked in a go-ahead run for the Jets in the top of the inning.

Julio Navarro, fourth of the Syracuse pitchers, earned his victory for the Chiefs with two innings of relief. Sam Jones, third Columbus hurler, was tagged with the loss after coming on in the 10th after Horton had tagged reliever Frank Bork for his fourth homer.

Gibson Is Named To Post at Miami

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Football coach Bo Schembechler is losing his backfield assistant Wayne Gibson, who has been appointed Miami University's assistant director of intercollegiate athletics. Gibson is a 1948 Miami graduate and formerly was coach at the Gallipolis, Ohio, high school.

In other staff changes, Rodger Cromer succeeds Darrell Hedrick as the Redskins' golf coach, Joe Galat was hired on a full-time basis as wrestling coach and varsity football assistant, and Woody Wills is giving up his assistantship in football to devote full time as coach of the Miami baseball team.

Henry T. Adios Ends 10-Race Loss Streak

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP)—Henry T. Adios, harness racing's second all-time money winner, ended a 10-race losing streak by taking the $15,000 Cross County Pace at Yonkers Raceway Wednesday night.

The 6-year-old stepped the one mile in 1:59 1-5 and upped his earnings to $609,848 by beating Country Don one-half length. Su Mac Lad, a trotter, is the top money winner in the sulky set with $759,042.

Hobbie Pitches Baffle Giants

Fast, Curve Ball Yields Only 2 Hits

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
"His fast ball goes like this—" and a pair of hands made a quick, darting movement.

"His curve ball goes like this—" and the pair of hands made a sharp dip and slant.

It's been a long time since the description fit Glen Hobbie, who put the darting, dipping and slanting together Wednesday for his new St. Louis teammates and pitched his finest game this season—a two-hit, 2-1 triumph over National League-leading San Francisco.

Both hits off Hobbie came in the first inning. The 28-year-old right-hander allowed only one walk the rest of the way, gaining the Cardinals a doubleheader split after the Giants had taken the first game 3-0.

Hobbie now has made two appearances since being acquired from Chicago last week in an even swap for Lew Burdette. He had an 8.00 earned run average in 27 1-3 innings with the Cubs, but has a 1.13 mark after permitting only eight hits in 16 1-3 innings for the Cardinals.

Hobbie has been trying for four years to regain the dart, dips and slants described by the hands of former Cubs Manager Bob Scheffing. Originally purchased for $50,000, Hobbie brought a quick dividend when he posted 16-victory seasons in 1959 and 1960.

Then he ran into back trouble and was able to win only 19 games over the last three seasons. At the tail end of 1963, Hobbie pitched two shutouts and seemed to be back in form, but he got off to an 0-3 start this year—and got on a plane to St. Louis.

His second-game victory against the Giants trimmed San Francisco's edge over second-place Philadelphia to four percentage points. The Phillies closed in with a 4-1 triumph over Pittsburgh behind Chris Short's four-hit pitching.

Elsewhere, Cincinnati edged the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-4 on Leo Cardenas' run-producing single in the 11th inning and the New York Mets walloped the Cubs 8-3 as Charlie Smith and Ed Kranepool accounted for six runs. Houston and Milwaukee were not scheduled.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox edged Baltimore 2-1, Detroit defeated Minnesota 5-4 and Washington beat Kansas City 3-1 in single games. The Los Angeles Angels swept a doubleheader from Cleveland 7-4 in 11 innings and 5-3 while Boston defeated the New York Yankees 7-6 in 10 innings before losing 10-6.

Ebenhack has started 18 times at Scioto. He has finished in the money six times, with four wins and two seconds. His driving average is 284.

Ebenhack is stabled at the Ross County Fairgrounds during the training season.

The 10 victories gained by Michigan State pitcher Dick Radatz in 1959 are the most ever recorded by a Spartan athlete in one season. Radatz is the relief ace for the Boston Red Sox.

Big Names May Not Be on All-Star List

NEW YORK (AP)—It is election time in baseball. In the next few weeks, the big leaguers will pick the players for the All-Star game to be played July 7 at Shea Stadium. Unless they ignore the batting averages, some big names will be left off the ticket.

If you take the top average man from each position, the only repeaters of last year's regulars will be Ken Boyer of St. Louis, Willie Mays of San Francisco and Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees.

Actually, Mantle didn't start last year in Cleveland because he was out of action due to a broken foot. However, Mickey had been picked for the team. Albie Pearson of Los Angeles, hitting .220 this year through Tuesday's games, was his replacement.

Boyer is the only member of the Cardinals' All-Star infield in a position to repeat on the basis of average. Bill White, the first baseman, is hitting only .228. Julian Javier, at second base, is batting only .224 and Dick Groat, at short, with .284 is close but not quite up to Maury Wills of Los Angeles with his .288 mark.

Javier got in on a rain check last July when Bill Mazeroski of Pittsburgh suffered a pulled leg muscle. Maz is way down there at .229 this season. Boyer, of course, has been among the leaders all season with a .328 average.

Mays is in there solid although his .400-plus average has dropped down to .359. But Tommy Davis of the Dodgers, 1962 and 1963 batting champion, is way off at .254 and Hank Aaron of Milwaukee, the right-field starter last year, is hitting .293. Ed Bailey, then with San Francisco, was the starting catcher in '63 but he is hitting only .184 for Milwaukee this year.

Through Tuesday's averages, the top men in the National at each position are Orlando Cepeda, San Francisco, first base, .309; Ron Hunt of New York, second base, .306; Wills, shortstop, .288; Boyer, third base, .328; Billy Williams of Chicago, .395; Mike White of Houston, .352 and Mays, .359, outfielders, and Joe Torre, of Milwaukee, catcher, .339.

In the American League, Joe Peptide of New York, Nellie Fox of Chicago (now Houston),

Voilo Versalles of Minnesota, Frank Malzone of Boston, Earl Battey of Minnesota, Al Kaline of Detroit and Leon Wagner of Cleveland are not leading their respective positions. Wagner, of course, leads the league with 46 runs batted in but his average of .290 isn't among the leaders. American League leaders at each position are Fred Whitfield of Cleveland, first base, .318; Bobby Richardson of New York, second base, .302; Jim Fregosi of Los Angeles, shortstop, .347; Brooks Robinson of Baltimore, third base, .306; Chuck Hinton of Washington, .350; Tony Oliva of Minnesota, .369, and Mantle, .306, outfielders, and Elston Howard of New York, catcher, .323.

Rangers To Use Firefighter Aid

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The Wisconsin Conservation Department is going to put a new weapon into action against forest fires on the Apostle Islands in Lake Superior. It is an LCM (landing craft machine) once used by U. S. Army reservists in Michigan.

Neil LeMay, chief ranger for the department, noted that there had been several serious fires on the islands which have been difficult to fight because of lack of docks. The landing craft, capable of carrying several tractors and plows and about 15 men, could get equipment directly to shore.

Wisconsin will receive the vessel under the federal government's excess equipment program.

1. Card of Thanks

It's been one long year today, dear
Guy.
That God called you away
But memories linger on of your sweet smile
As we travel on each day,
But sometimes we sit in sorrow
With tears in our eyes,
We do not know why God called you away
Without a chance to say good-bye
But God is love and goodness
We cannot ask Him why
So suddenly He called you away
Without a chance to say goodbye
Our hope now is to meet you dear
Guy
In that mansion in the sky
Where we will never part
And we'll never say good-bye.
Written by Tom Boyer
Sadly missed by wife Helen, sons
Stevie, Gary and Tommy; Parents,
Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Boyer, Brothers and sisters.

POWER PACK FOR SPACE—Rita Szczepanek is examining an odd-shaped device that converts nuclear heat directly into electricity without any movable, mechanical parts. The "thermionic energy converter module" was developed by RCA Electronic Components and Devices in Lancaster, Pa. Engineers say the module opens the way to systems that may produce hundreds of kilowatts of electricity for auxiliary power in space or for space vehicle propulsion.

Today in Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

GUANTANAMO SHOOTING: The United States has denied a charge from Havana that Marine sentries at the U.S. Guantanamo Naval Base had fired on and wounded a Cuban soldier at a nearby guard post.

The Defense Department called the charge "typical of the irresponsible and unfounded allegations originated by the Castro regime."

In Havana, a government source said this was the first time a Cuban had been wounded but "our men have been fired on before."

The Pentagon said in its statement it had checked the report with the base commander and that a "careful investigation has confirmed that no ammunition was expended by Marine guards or any other U.S. personnel last night."

JOBS AVAILABLE: The Labor Department announced Wednesday that the employment outlook is good this year for graduates of junior colleges, technical institutes and other two-year college programs.

"Schools and employers report that persons with training for specific occupations are finding employment opportunities more plentiful than those with a liberal arts background but no specific major," the department reported.

Some of the best pickings for two-year school graduates are for those with training in fields of business administration, and medical service and as engineering technicians.

JOB DISCRIMINATION: The President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity said Wednesday the federal government is launching an intensive program to end employment discrimination on federal or federally assisted construction projects.

The committee said in a statement the drive will involve a task force of 40 men from various federal agencies which will be broken up in teams of three or four.

The teams will work in 10 regions centered on Atlanta, Chicago, Cleveland, Dallas, Miami, Nashville, New Orleans, New York, Philadelphia and San Francisco.

Jinx Ship Limp to Honolulu

HONOLULU (AP)—The jinx ship Pomona, its former captain hacked to death with an axe on the high seas last month, was heading back to Honolulu today after a fire forced the crew off the ship as it resumed its voyage under a new skipper.

With the Liberian-registered ship only 100 miles southwest of Honolulu, en route to Formosa, fire broke out Wednesday in the engine room and 30 crew members were ordered over the side into aircraft-dropped life rafts.

There were no injuries. The crew, less three men who remained aboard the Pomona, were picked up by the freighter Rio Manamo and transferred to the Coast Guard cutter Kukui.

Four hours later, with the fire under control but the engines apparently disabled, the men were placed back aboard the Pomona to await the arrival of a tug boat from Hawaii.

The new crew was composed of former first mate Alf Olsen, the captain; six Norwegian officers; a Brazilian radio operator and 25 Chinese seamen. The old crew refused to sail again after the slaying of Capt. Jacob Natvig in May. Natvig was slain with a fire ax in the vessel's first attempt to get to Formosa with 9,500 tons of scrap.

The captain's body was discovered by Olsen May 15 in his bunk and the ship diverted to Honolulu from 1,000 miles east of the islands. An extensive investigation failed to turn up the killer.

The sale was legal in Arizona, as it is in several other states. Americans love guns, perhaps because of our frontier traditions. There are even 200,000 members of "quick draw clubs" using real guns and wax bullets.

The position of representatives of the National Rifle Association, representing over 600,000 hunters and shooting enthusiasts, was explored. While deploring sales to convicted felons, persons with a history of mental disease or children, it maintains that citizens have a right to own firearms for self protection, including the prevention of tyranny.

Police authorities pointed out the tremendous lack of uniformity in state and local gun laws, and James Bennett, director of federal prisons, said "We're the only civilized country with no effective restrictions on gun sales."

The hour program was intelligent, well-organized and provocative.

The last "Garry Moore Show" next week will have Carol Burnett, Alan King, Marion Lorne and Allen Funt, all show regulars at one time or another, as guest stars.

Steve Allen, arrives in New York next week to tape his first "I've Got a Secret" show, in which Moore will hand over the show's reins. The program will kick off the new season of the long-playing CBS game show in the fall.

Moore plans a slow trip around the world next season.

PPG Starts Work on Unit At Delaware

DELAWARE, O. — Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. today broke ground here for an industrial coating factory. A multi-million dollar plant, the new unit will produce a variety of industrial coatings formerly manufactured at a number of other factories of the Coatings and Resins Division.

Guy J. Berghoff, vice president and general manager of PPG's Coatings and Resins Division, turned the first shovel of earth at the 60-acre plant site located within the city limits. Delaware city and civic officials and state representatives participated in the ceremony at the plant site.

Site preparation for the plant began immediately after the ceremony and scheduled completion date is mid-1965. Approximately 225 persons will be employed when the factory reaches capacity operations.

According to Berghoff, the Delaware location was chosen because of its proximity to PPG's Circleville, factory and freight cost advantages which first attracted the company to the central Ohio area.

The Circleville plant produces synthetic resins, the most important single raw material used to make coatings, plastics and foams produced in the plants operated by the Coatings and Resins Division.

A leading producer of consumer and industrial finishes of all types, PPG's Coatings and Resins Division operates 14 factories in the U. S.

Stock Mart Remains High

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market recovery carried into its third straight session with trading light early this afternoon.

Fractional gains among key stocks outnumbered losers.

A scattering of pivotal issues moved up a point or so.

The market was higher at the start but the edge was thin in early trading. The general level improved as the session wore on despite profit taking on the past two sessions of advance.

Air lines were soft, chemicals and rubbers were mixed.

The trend was a bit higher among steels, motors, rails, nonferrous metals, oils, building materials and electrical equipments.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .5 at 303.6 with industrials up 1.4, rails unchanged and utilities off .2.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 3.81 at 811.34. The Dow Jones rails and utilities also showed slight gains.

Business Briefs

Brainstorming and old-fashioned "bull sessions" will highlight the two day quarterly meeting of the Ohio Association of Real Estate Boards June 16-17 at the Columbus Plaza.

Lowell Douce of Marion, OAREB president, said business sessions will predominate as more than 200 representatives from Ohio's real estate boards attend to discuss ways and means of providing more extensive services to the public.

Larry E. Horn of Columbus, a director of the International Traders Club, will address the dinner Tuesday. His topic will be "Motivation — the Key to Exchange."

The capital and surplus of The Second National Bank of Circleville was increased to a total of $475,000 effective immediately through transfer by the Board of Directors of $75,000 from undivided profits into the surplus fund, Durward D.

Dowden, President, announced today.

With the increase of capital structure, the loan maximum has been broadened from $40,000 to $47,500 for any one borrower under existing laws and regulations. This broadened loan base enables the bank to better serve its customers in this trade area.
